Marina Candidates Voice Their Opinions

With the July 18 Marina incorporation election drawing near, seven of the 23 candidates for the city council expressed their positions at a recent public forum.

All seven of the candidates present have endorsed a common platform. They fielded questions from an audience of almost fifty persons, which included members of Marina Citizens Against Incorporation.

The candidates present are Clarence Akins, James Cambier, Paul Davis, Richard Johnson, Robert Mast, Henry Mims and Benjamin Shaw. Robert Bryant, who has also endorsed the platform, was not present.

The platform which these candidates have endorsed states "we will not approve additional property taxes" and it favors a city administrator type government and a local police force financed either by contract or hire, depending on which is more economical.

The candidates are also in favor of absorbing the water and fire districts and promise to review present tax districts and service areas. These would include the Castrolville Cemetery District and the Moss Landing Harbor District. These would be discussed from the standpoint of withdrawing and saving Marina taxpayers money.

In response to a question, Davis said he would favor a police department of seven men, but all details involving the department would have to be worked out by the city council.

Johnson added that Marina does not get adequate protection from the sheriff's department now and thus his support for a local police department. He added that something had to be done to provide jobs and recreation for the youth of Marina.

Akins said that he thought that all land on the beach side of the proposed new freeway should be reserved for recreational use.

A master plan for development of the community over the next 15 to 20 years was proposed by Mast. He said the city would take over the fire and water districts and the two county service areas that provide street lights, recreation and drainage. Even after doing all this, he claimed, the city could still have the same total tax rate that is now being paid.

Candidate Nims added that any industry that begins operation in Marina should be a "light industry compatible to clean air." He added however that he was not the one to try to induce that.

Cambier agreed with him that smoky, dirty industry should be kept out of Marina. He suggested that Fritzsche Field area of Fort Ord, which is included in the incorporation boundaries could be used for trucking or storage of crops or department stores.

Another meeting to inform Marina residents of the issues in this election is scheduled for tomorrow (Thursday) evening at 8 p.m. at Olson School. At that meeting, the mayor, city manager and a councilman from Los Banos will speak on incorporation.

Named Area Governor

Rus Bucholz, educational vice president for the Ordors club at Ft. Ord, has been named by Toastmasters International as area governor for Monterey County. He will be working in all phases of development and improvement with Toastmaster clubs in Monterey, Naval Post Graduate School, Ft. Ord, Salinas and King City. He will coordinate all training activities and will be chairman for the humorous speech contest in the fall and the serious speech contest next spring.

In the past, Bucholz has earned the Able Toastmaster award, presented to fewer than 1,400 of the worldwide organization's 67,000 members. He is a past president of the Royal Toastmasters at Naval Air Station Lemoore (Ca), where he was named Outstanding Toastmaster for 1970 and a former member of the Sunrise Toastmasters in Salinas. He won second award at Carmel last winter in the area humorous speech contest and has previously won similar contests in the San Joaquin Valley.

When the One Great Scorer Comes to write against your name, He writes not how you won or lost, But how you played the game.

Life is a game! It's a big game. But unlike tennis or golf or pool or hid-and-seek, no one loves this game of life. Not in the sense of "game" itself. Although it takes skill, there are no losers, only winners. So you may think that the game is meaningless. You are wrong. Everything in this game of life has a meaning. Everything in this game of life has a purpose. Everything in this game of life reflects right back to the player. If you have played the game according to the rules, your winnings will be greater.

A sharp player sets his own rules. You can usually recognize a sharp player when he is playing his game. His rules are easy to follow. He has no tricks or trumps or two blacks and a red, just straight, everyday rules. That is why his winnings are greater.

If you pattern your rules according to someone else, you could become lost, like a shadow without a caster. We choose, therefore, we are! And there is truth in this. My boss, Andy Barragan, has been playing a game. He set his own rules. He is a sharp player. Some of the finest doctors in the nation have their own rules. They tried their darndest to get Andy to patter his rules according to theirs. He re-

Teachers Win Grants

Two special education teachers have each received $300 grants from the State Department of Education to further their training during the summer. James Lang, director of service programs for the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, has announced.

Grants were awarded to Dorcas Elliott to attend Indiana University and to Eloise Majette, who will attend San Jose State College. Both are teachers of educable mentally retarded students.

Mexican Officials to Be at Rodeo

Two high ranking officials of the government of Mexico will be on hand to celebrate Mexican-American Day at the California Rodeo at Salinas, it was announced recently by Homer M. Hayward, president.

Governor Milton Castellanos Everdo is sending Nicholas Saad Andres chief of tourism, as his personal representative and also attending the festivities will be M. Rubi, acting consul-general for Mexico in San Francisco.

Mexican-American Day was started five years ago as one of the highlights of the final day of the world-famous rodeo and this year will be held on Sunday, July 23. It has grown in popularity through the years to the point where standing room only is virtually assured.

The tribute to the neighboring nation which has contributed so much both to the history of the area and to the sport of rodeo, will start at noon with the playing of mariachi music as spectators are ushered into their seats.

This will be followed with national dances on specially erected platforms on the track by members of the Alisal Folk Dance group under direction of Mrs. Rufino Jimenez.

Then will come the contest for the best Mexican, or early California costumes for which hundreds of dollars in prizes are being offered this year in addition to the trophy sponsored by Radio Station K.C.T.Y. for the best individual winner.

Other categories will be best group, best couple, best boy and best girl. Judges will be Sr. Andres and Senorita Rubi.

Camacho Answers Talcott On Voting Record

Julian Camacho, Democratic candidate for Congress, said recently that incumbent Burt Talcott, R-Salinas, apparently keeps no record of his votes in the House of Representatives.

Answering the charge that he had misrepresented Talcott's performance on the 18-year-old vote, Camacho had this to say:

"If Mr. Talcott is going to react this way every time a part of his true record is put before the people, maybe I'd better tell him where to look to refresh himself on how he voted on the issues. Since I am going to continue exposing that record to voters, it would save you and me a lot of time if Mr. Talcott himself is aware of that record."

"I'd be more than happy to send Mr. Talcott, at my expense, a copy of the Congressional Quarterly for the third quarter of 1970. Then, all he has to do is turn to page 36H. It's right there. Or, perhaps he'd rather have me send a copy of October 5, 1970 newsletter from the Friends Committee on Legislation. I'll do that. In that case, he'll find it on page 5. I'm sure he has access to the 1972 edition of the Almanac of American Politics. Guess what? Right! It's there again. The list probably goes on and on, but that should do for a start."

"Other people know Talcott's record. At least some of them do. In the recent primary, when he said he would get a lot of cross-over Democratic votes, we received around 97 percent of the vote in the precincts around U.C. Santa Cruz. Talcott got less than 40 vote total in these same precincts. Now, don't you think those students know where he stood on the 18 year old vote?"

"When the bill came up in the House, it was passed 273 to 132. Talcott's vote was duly recorded as one of the 132 who did not feel that the 18-year-old citizen was entitled to the vote. After the Supreme Court ruled that it was constitutional, the matter was resubmitted to the House. But remember, the measure had already been passed. All this ploy accomplished was to allow Talcott and 131 others to correct their own errors. But the people are fortunate in that the record is preserved. The entire record--and I'm going to see to it that the people of the twelfth district have a good look at that record."

"Now that the primary election is behind us and Mr. Talcott didn't get the cross-over votes he predicted, I see he is now saying that he is going to get 50 percent of the Democratic vote in Monterey County in November. But the people will have something to say about that and by the time the election comes around, the people will know lot more about Burt Talcott. When the record is out in the open, when the voters have had a chance to learn how they have been misrepresented in Congress, Talcott might have trouble getting 50 percent of the vote in his own American Legion post."

This special program is open to all boys on the Monterey Peninsula. day camp, as well as use of the Boys' Club facilities for the rest of the year is $1. any boy who cannot afford the membership fee, can either use the scholarship program or earn their membership fee.

More information on the programs can be obtained from the Boys' Club, 1185 Wheeler Street, Seaside, phone 394-5171. Summer hours at the club are 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Summer Community Counseling Effort Begins Again

A team of 12 community counselors and inter-group relations assistants has begun a summer counseling program aimed at helping students in the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District make the transition into junior and senior high schools.

Leonard Cohn, supervisor of child welfare and attendance, said a similar effort initiated last summer "proved highly successful" and led to continuance of the counseling program this year.

Cohn said the dozen-member team will meet with as many parents and students as possible during the summer, although 100 per cent coverage may not be possible.

The counseling program is aimed primarily at students moving from the sixth to seventh grades and from the ninth to 10th grades, but some counseling sessions will also be arranged for students in a smattering of other grades, Cohn said.

Counselors will explain scheduling and programs at the receiving schools and point out curricular and extra-curricular opportunities that will be available to students, he said.

They will also attempt to answer any parent or student concerns revolving around the transition to a new school, he said.

Along with helping to smooth the way for an easy transition, the summer counseling "is a way to bring the school into the home," and to encourage parental involvement in their youngsters' education, Cohn said.

Throughout the regular school year, community counselors and inter-group relations assistants also meet with parents and students in the home as a means of improving communications and explaining school programs.

He said parents who want to meet with counselors during the summer may contact the receiving schools to see if a visit has already been scheduled or to arrange for such a conference.

Mrs. Pay Aversano, youth activity director, has released a schedule of activities that has something of interest for everyone between the ages of five and 20. There will be, for example, basketball, softball, swimming, bowling, fishing, billiards, bicycling, roller skating, golf and tennis for both boys and girls and in some cases different competitions for juniors and seniors.

For the boys alone there is Little League and Babe Ruth League baseball and calls have already gone out for the boys to get ready for Pop Warner football.

Team handball, a relatively new sport, is on the agenda as well as motor biking, rifle marksmanship, arts and crafts, camping, hiking, sailing and scuba diving.

Instructions will be given on preparing for the upcoming soapbox derby, improvisational dancing, jazz dancing, ballet, baton twirling, croquet and piano.

In addition, a kindergarten will be operated for eight weeks.

ESVW --Volkswagen's New Experimental Safety Car

Volkswagen's Experimental Safety Vehicle, the ESVW, is trying to answer the automotive question of the future--how to insure accident survival within a framework of reasonable vehicle cost.

The ESVW concept car, recently displayed at Transpo '72 in Washington D.C., is the result of 19 months work by VW's research and development staff. Although it will never find a home in a family garage, the ESVW is more than an engineering exercise.

"From this experiment we hope to learn how much crashworthiness can be built into the family car without greatly reducing practicality and without too extreme a cost," reports Dr. Ernst Fiala, head of VW research and development.

The ESVW utilizes a combination of rigid perimeter "tough shell" construction backed by crumple zones that deform and absorb crash energy at known rates. This kind of construction makes it possible for the front end, for example, to perform as desired in crashes against both fixed poles and flat barriers.

Among the performance criteria built into the ESVW, survival in the following collisions are most important:

* A 50 mph head-on crash into a rigid pole or a fixed barrier;

* Two consecutive roll-overs;

* A 90 degree side impact into the ESVW into a fixed barrier at a speed of 50 mph; at a 15 degree impact angle and at 30 mph at 45 degrees;

* A head-on crash into a parked vehicle twice the weight of the ESVW at 75 mph;

* A rear-end collision by a vehicle twice the weight of the ESVW at 40 mph.

In low speed collisions from the front or rear, telescoping hydraulic bumpers absorb impact and return to normal shape and position with no damage. At higher speeds after the initial impact absorption takes place in the bumper cylinders, a back-up hydraulic system takes over until at high speeds the sheet metal itself becomes the energy absorbing medium. The front bumper has a total telescope stroke of eight inches, while the rear bumper has a five-inch stroke and absorbs a 5 mph impact without damage.

Though VW has performed research with air bags, the ESVW does not use them. It is the only ESV that does not. Instead it is equipped with an advanced passive, pre-loaded, energy-absorbing restraint system utilizing a shoulder belt and knee belt. Operation of the safety belts requires no action by car occupants and in normal driving the occupants are unencumbered.

An across-the-chest belt hangs loosely in front of the occupant in normal driving and there is no knee restriction. In a low-speed collision, the occupant is restrained by the loose belt and a padded knee bar. At speeds over 15 mph, as the front bumper telescopes inward at the moment of impact, a sensor located inside the bumper sets off a charge within a closed cylinder. Gas expansion activates a device which tightens the belt across the occupant's chest and deploys the lower belt that grips his knees. The activating mechanism is housed out of sight in the central tunnel while the knee belts are concealed by the knee bar.

The front seats in the ESVW are fixed, being a unit with the floor structure, the central "backbone" and the strong transverse bulkhead. Drivers of different heights and arm lengths all have good control, however since the driver's seat cushion raises and lowers electrically while the steering wheel and pedal cluster adjust forward and rearward. Seat backs are designed to absorb energy in rear-end collisions.

Avoiding accidents is as important as surviving them for the designers of the ESVW. Among the performance standards sought were the following:

* Be able to drive indefinitely around a circular course having a 100-foot radius at a constant speed and produce a side acceleration of at least .65 g;

* Negotiate a slalom at a minimum speed of 50 mph, avoiding pylons placed 98.4 feet apart;

* Remain upright at 50 mph despite a sudden J-turn;

* Stay on course, not varying more than 4-1/2 feet, while traveling at about 70 mph along a 20-foot stretch of 50 mph cross wind forces;

* Stop from 60 mph within a distance of 155 feet without leaving a lane 12 feet wide.

A useful driving aid, an electronic "silent co-pilot," eliminates side-wind sensitivity. It measures side acceleration and compensates automatically for it in the steering angle. The device is located in the front trunk of the ESVW.

fused. Why? Because their rules were too hard to follow. Andy is an active man. They tried to make him inactive. You know the bit: "Stay in bed." "Get plenty of sunshine." "Watch what you eat." "Don't indulge in business transactions." Etc., etc.....

Following his own rules, which were simple; Andy, in moderate escalation, started healing himself. This had to be the most wonderful example of mind-over-matter in the history of mankind. Not just mind-over-matter, let's not exclude the face of defying the laws of medical history. Last Friday at noon, when Andy walked into the doctors for an examination, the doctor and nurses, (and there were many) who had attended him in his darkest hours, were very amazed, but happy to see him, as though he was a relative whose plane had just landed safely after it was reported that all persons aboard had perished in an air wreck. One could feel the compassion within the hearts and souls of these dedicated people.

Andy went to tell his doctor that he was taking a motor trip to the Oakland Coliseum that evening. What could they say? Saturday was SEASIDE POST DAY at the Coliseum. The Oakland A's played the California Angels. Even with Vida Blue being knocked out of the game after he gave up four hits in a row; even with Oakland losing to Los Angeles by a score of 3 - 1; and even the fight with traffic, it was still a most wonderful day. The sun was warm, the seats were excellent and Andy enjoyed himself more than my little nephew, Andre. Speaking of Andre, he will never stop talking about Vida Blue waving to him "personally," he says.

I just hope that every one of you who took advantage of the special SEASIDE POST DAY, enjoyed every minute of it as we did. Watch the SEASIDE POST News Sentinel for other special happenings throughout the coming year. Take advantage of them. They are geared to save you money.

We choose, therefore, we are. Ask Andy, he is a Private Person. To him, the word private ranks second only to "choice." If private people are to remain private, they must impose laws and rules on those they allow inside, and the chosen are expected to observe all that is presented without question. I remind you that he is a sharp player of the game of life. He has proved this to you without a doubt. His choices have to do the expected: arrive on time, leave when enough has been said, never gossip or decharacterize someone not present to defend himself, and if he is asked to advise on a matter, the advice must be followed to the letter.

So when Andy told the doctors that he was taking a short trip for a day or so, they know he is a Private Person. They were even unable to advise him as to how he should carry out his proposed journey. Since he was in the Bay Area, Jean (his lovely wife) and he were escorted on a tour of our new building in Downtown Oakland, and they also got a chance to see our new press. All in all it was a lovely weekend.

Before I close, I would like to make a wish: I wish for you, all my dear and faithful readers, that you learn to share, that you learn to commingle your truth with someone, that you yield with one who yields with you. I wish that for you. I wish that for everyone alive, but especially I wish it for you. And if it should come true, you will have a minimum amount of pain and a maximum amount of pleasure - all day every day. Love is like that. But there is no love without yielding.

PARADE OF CHAMPIONS

Seaside's 24th Annual Independence Day Parade and Celebration will commence this coming Sunday, July 2, at 12 Noon SHARP! Our parade theme is "STARS AND STRIPES ON PARADE."

This event is Seaside's major annual attraction for marching units and floats from all over California and adjacent states. In past years we had visitors/spectators, from all corners of the world view and appreciate our parade. I predict that the parade this year will be the most successful one and an event that we will recall with pride.

Many citizens of our military neighbors, and civic organizations have contributed long hours, equipment, suggestions - and their Good Will - in making our Parade of Champions a success. Additionally, the Parade Committee is comprised of representatives from Carmel, Monterey, Del Rey Oaks, Pacific Grove and Marina.

I am especially pleased and proud to learn that our parade is also honoring Miss Black Teen-Age California - Seaside's very own Miss Regina Battle and also honoring Miss Black Teen-Age Monterey Peninsula - Seaside's Cheryl DeBarry! These two outstanding young people deserve all he recognition and honor that we can possibly bestow upon them. I salute them!

Of course, all marching units and floats will be judged by professional contest judges. I've had the opportunity to observe a few of the Seaside Champion marching units practice their steps and movements. I urge all our citizens to turn out for the parade because you have some of the finest marching units in the U.S. right here in Seaside!

Friends, our neighbors in the balance of the Monterey peninsula, I extend to you my personal invitation to come view our Parade of Champions next Sunday - after you go to Church. See you there, too, P.S. Special appreciation and thanks to parade chairman: Howard Ingels and parade president: Chris Lopes.

Questions are Answered

Q -- Am I still eligible for educational benefits if I was separated from military service in January 1966?

A -- Yes, Veterans with more than 180 days of active duty who received an other than dishonorable discharge between January 31, 1955 and June 1, 1966, have eligibility for eight years from date of discharge or until May 31, 1974. Veterans separated for service-connected disabilities are eligible regardless of length of service.

Q -- When will I receive the dividend check on my g.i. insurance?

A -- Dividends ordinarily are due on the anniversary date of the policy. However, VA plans to mail current dividends during the first six months of 1972.

REALITY HOUSE IN SEASIDE is one of the many outstanding organizations in the city. On Wednesday of this week I had the privilege of being invited along with other County Supervisors, City Officials and the community of Seaside to attend their Open House. The purpose of this event was to afford those present an opportunity to meet some of the graduates of this home, to talk with them and become more aware of the total operation of this very fine non-profit organization.

Upon my arrival I was greeted by MRS. IRA LIVELY, a Director of the Corporation. (Mrs. Lively is also the Juvenile Officer for the Seaside Police Department and was named Police Officer of the Year of March 1972.) Her close association with our youth in her daily work gives her an unusually valuable insight into the problems with which Reality House is concerned. Mrs. Lively then introduced me to MRS. ANN E. ERICKSON who is the EXECUTIVE director for REALITY HOUSE and is especially well prepared for the work which she is doing. She holds a masters degree in the behavioral sciences which she obtained at Purdue University. Her main responsibilities include counseling and teaching. Mrs. Erickson explained that Reality House is a home and treatment center for girls who in one way or another had become enmeshed in our judicial system and the record of successful results have been in many ways amazing.

The working philosophy of the house is based on behavior modification. Gene England, a consultant behavioral scientist, advises the staff on the application of the principles of learning...the reality is now and tomorrow. The approach is positive and pragmatic, based upon learning to live and cooperate with others. Respect of self and others, responsible independence and decision-making are stressed. Six hours of individualized academic instruction are provided each day by a certificated teacher. Parttime job experience and vocational training is provided under proper supervision through cooperative efforts of neighborhood youth corps and employers.

Residents of Reality House are selected without regard to race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. Prior to admission an intake study is made for the purpose of selecting girls who need

Reality House is operated by a community Board of Directors who control the man-

Reality House is a private, non-profit corporation located at 1173 Elm Street, Seaside.

Reality House is the only community-based treatment center in the County that offers rehabilitation to teenage offenders and is placed with its 80 percent success rate. SEASIDE has every right to be proud of the fact that REALITY HOUSE OFFERS AN EXCELLENT REHABILITATION PROGRAM WHICH IS SO VITALLY NEEDED...I WISH THEM EVERY SUCCESS.

Today's Army NEWS

By
SSG R. Cardwell
ARMY RECRUITER

Young women, if you haven't considered the Army as a place to get a start in life, you might be missing one of the greatest opportunities that exists. The woman in the Army today has every chance to better her conditions, as well as to further her education. You will receive pay while you are being trained in a technical field.

A steadily increasing number of women in the Army are in automatic data processing, intelligence, graphics, flight operations, finance, drafting, administration, supply, communications, pictorial, medical and food service. We also have handswomen, linguists, photographers, counterintelligence investigators and laboratory technicians. And we are continually moving into new fields of opportunities for women.

If you have a BA degree or higher the Officer Candidate School can be available to you. Women's Army Corps applicants attend officer training at Fort McClellan, Alabama.

It is also possible for women honorably discharged from the Army to return. Those veterans who have been out of the Army for less than three months may return with no loss in grade if there is a vacancy in their Military Occupational Specialty. Veterans who have been out of service more than three months but less than thirty months are eligible to return at one pay grade lower, providing there is an opening in their Military Occupational Specialty.

Also women can take advantage of our 180 days Delayed Entry Program. It's ideal for the June high school or college graduate who might want to take a long vacation, hold down a summer job or just relax a few months before beginning military service. This program also offers you advantages in both pay and advancement opportunities.

For more information about the Women's Army Corp, please contact us at 431-Webster Street, Monterey, or call 372-4742/372-0553. I'll be looking for you.

CROWN ROAST OF PORK

This is a party roast, made from the lion and shaped and tied to form a circle with the ends of the rib bones exposed. It's a bit expensive, but you can't beat it for elegance and rich flavor and for those special occasions that call for the best.

6-pound crown roast (12 ribs);
3-1/2 cups corn cracker crumbs (or regular);
3/4 cup butter, melted;
3 cups pared, diced apples;
1 cup cooked apricots, drained and chopped;
1 cup minced onion;
1/8 teaspoon pepper;
1/4 cup sugar;

Have butcher prepare crown roast, making sure backbone is removed for easy carving. Wrap exposed bones with aluminum foil to prevent charring. Rub surface of roast lightly with salt and pepper. Combine cracker crumbs with melted butter. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Makes about four cups stuffing. Pack lightly into center of roast. Roast in moderate oven (325) three to four hours, or until done. Remove roast to heated platter; discard bone coverings and decorate with chop frills. Garnish with spiced crab apples and parsley.

Doug McClure, Merv Griffin and Jonathan Winters. The field of 80 will start their matches Sunday, July 2nd and continue Monday the 3rd, with tournament finals and presentation of awards on Tuesday, July 4th.

Mayor Hatcher Of Gary Addresses Huge San Jose Rally

By Charles Aikens,

Gary's Mayor Richard Hatcher told over 8,500 people in the recent San Jose rally against war, racism and repression that "we should wonder about the sanctity of a nation that spends $70 million on war and not to feed hungry people."

Hatcher was speaking at William Street Park, with a host of others, including Cleophus Williams, president of ILWU's Local 10; Delia Alvarez, the sister of first Vietnam POW; and Al Hubbard, of Vietnam Veterans Against the War.

In his blistering speech Hatcher said: "Thirty billion dollars is spent to send an astronaut to the moon to play golf and little is given for building playgrounds for children."

"Comfortable living quarters are provided for Calley, who killed many Vietnamese, while no money is spent to defend Angela Davis, who has committed no crime."

Hatcher said

Americans should wonder about their nation when the mayor of Chicago will go to Ireland but will not go three miles to the ghetto of his own city to discuss police brutality.

Williams said his union was against the war and the recent Pay Board decision that kept East and West Coast longshoremen from getting pay raises.

"The houseless, the prisoners, the unemployed, the underemployed, the old, those on welfare, the raging youth, the unorganized worker, the public employer the veteran, the student, the quest of women for freedom -- all represent vital concerns and legislation has been myopic and selfish," said Williams, "and it's best expressed in cliches such as, 'I have mine, now you get yours.'"

Alvarez said her brother does not fear his POW status in Vietnam as much as he fears for "his life in America."

Speakers at the rally included Elizabeth McAllister of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Bill Lee of San Francisco and the International Hotel protest, Tony Estevars, Chris Nunez, and Franklin Alexander of the Angela David Defense Committee.

The speakers called for an end to bombing in Indochina, the freeing of Angela Davis, the ending of police violence against people in streets and homes, an end to the wage freeze, the halting of attacks on working people and ending the oppression of women.

Non-Returnable Fee Is Required Of Applicant

Nurses applying for public health nursing certificates in California must now submit a non-returnable $10 application fee, according to the State Department of Public Health.

Volunteer Groups Help Young Women

The National Council of Negro Women in conjunction with five other volunteer groups has channeled more than 49,000 young women into the Job Corps residential training program during the past eight years.

The six groups which comprise Women in Community Service (WICS), have helped 220,000 additional women by referring them to other training and work experience programs, or providing needed supportive services.

Manpower Administrator Paul J. Fasser, Jr., called this "a noteworthy achievement, especially in view of the fact that all of this work was done by WICS volunteers."

Among the more important of the specialized services, he pointed out these: * Publicizing the Job Corps program through (1) distribution of descriptive printed material and (2) public appearances and meetings with parents and community leaders and officials.

* Making home visits where possible to obtain parental consent, collect background data on each applicant, and counsel and advise the applicant about living in a Job Corps center.

* Arranging for medical examinations, administering mental ability and other screening tests, and assessing the applicant's ability to comply with Job Corps eligibility requirements.

* For applicants selected for Job Corps, arranging travel to the assigned center, administering of the Job Corps enrollment oath, and making sure new enrollees comply with scheduled travel arrangements.

WICS volunteers provide a variety of placement and post-placement support services to as many as 11,500 Corpswomen a year in their adjustment to community life after departing from Job Corps training centers.

Usually contacting Corpswomen within 15 days after departure, they assist with job referral and placement services, housing assistance, budget planning, information on training opportunities, and health, social, legal, emergency, and other community services.

Depending on need, WICS volunteers maintain periodic contact with Corpswomen for up to one year to help resolve problems that may arise, particularly those related to job retention or home life.

RISING COSTS

Governmental cost expenditures for the first six months of fiscal year 1970-71 totaled $2,324,788,434, which was $314,000,464 higher than the expenditures for the same period a year earlier.

Meat, of course, is the biggest single item in the average food budget, and the method of trimming can increase your cost per serving noticeably, if you're not shopping at Lucky. For example, the chine bone, gristle and excess fat in an ordinary Standing Rib Roast can add up to 14 per cent of its total weight... that's 14 per cent of the roast you can't eat!

In plain figures, there can be as much as 70 cents worth of waste in a $5.00 roast... waste that Lucky demands be trimmed away BEFORE the cut of meat is weighed and wrapped. And with T-Bone Steaks, the excess fat and tough tail end of the steak can add 4 ounces of weight... and a proportionate amount to the price you pay for it. But again... NOT at Lucky. These are carefully trimmed away before you buy your steak.

While Lucky meat experts pride themselves on their method of trimming beef, what they leave IN a cut of meat is just as important!

For instance, at Lucky you get all the lean, tender part in every Chuck Roast. And every Lucky full cut Round Steak includes the "eye" of the round... the choice part that is often removed completely elsewhere and sold under some fancy name at a much higher price per pound. When this happens, the very best part of your Round Steak ends up on someone else's table.

At Lucky it isn't only what comes OFF that counts... it's also what's left IN that assures you of more good eating, and more real value for your meat dollar.

Compare Lucky's famous Trim as well as Lucky's low everyday discount prices on over 300 meat cuts. You'll discover that you are saving even more than you thought.

KNIGHTS OF THE ROAD — Hobos emerge from freight cars and display some of the most interesting ice choreography ever created in the 1972 edition of Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies. The number is full of surprises, with magic tricks and unusual special effects. The show plays the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum from Wednesday, July 5th thru Sunday, July 9th. The opening night performance benefits the Easter Seal Society.

INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION

Fun and excitement will be the highlights of a fabulous day in Seaside, Sunday, July 2nd. The day begins with a giant Pancake Breakfast, sponsored by the Seaside Chamber of Commerce, from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. Delicious Pancakes, sausages, cocoa and coffee will be served by a crew from Fort Ord, under the supervision of Sfc. Wm. Brown. It will be held in the Monterey Peninsula Auto Center near Butts Pontiac.

Entertainment at the breakfast will be provided by the "Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc." after the judging of the floats for the Parade at 10 a.m.

The 26th annual Independence Day Parade begins at 12 noon at Trinity on Fremont and will march up Fremont, dispersing at La Salle. A float will mark the start of the Parade. Beautiful floats, top bands, drill teams, drum and bugle corps and equestrian units will be seen marching in the Parade. Some of the famous units include the Watsonville Marching Band, the Half Moon Bay Spanish Dancers, State Champion Men's Drill Team, Women's State Champion Drill Team, plus floats from San Juan, Castroville, Seaside (and the Seaside Chamber of Commerce with student leaders riding the float), Marina, Firebaugh, Kingsburg and many others.

The Parade will last approximately two hours. A Chicken Barbecue, sponsored by the Young Adults for Action, will be served from 12 noon to 6 p.m. at the Auto Center. Parade enthusiasts can enjoy barbequed chicken, potato salad, beans and beer for $1.50. Chicken sandwiches will be 75¢.

by the Monterey Peninsula Parade of Champions Independence Day Parade Committee, which organizes and disperses the funds supplied by the City of Seaside. This event provides marvelous publicity for our community. Christian Lopes is President of the Committee; Jim Spitz is first Vice President; Joe Ferreira, Treasurer; Verlaire Crawford, Secretary; and Howard Ingels, General Parade Chairman.

DISCUSS PROGRAM

At the last meeting of the Chamber's Board of Directors, Cleve Williams, Director of Parks & Recreation in Seaside, addressed the members and reviewed the program offered by the City and discussed the proposed Youth Center.

Many activities are offered by the Recreational Department, including crafts, games, swimming, tennis, art, bowling, baton, ballet, gymnastics and special events, such as a balloon contest, pet show, talent show, kids day at the fair, picnics, junior leader recognition night and a day at the Giants game in San Francisco.

Teens can enjoy camping and youth programs at the junior highs and high school. The focal point of teen activities is social with dances and tours to other cities, plus sports and special classes, such as cake decorating and physical exercise.

NEW COMMUNITY CENTER

Cleve Williams mentioned that the present Youth Center facilities are inadequate and plans are being made to build a new "Community" Center with a baseball diamond, amphitheater and park, plus a swimming pool, but their first priority must be the building of a new structure to house the Center.

In order to build the Com-

Chief Nurse Is Promoted

The chief nurse at Silas B. Hays Army Hospital, Lieutenant Colonel Virginia Brown, has been promoted to the rank of colonel. This makes Col. Brown the highest ranking woman officer on Ft. Ord. The new colonel received her "eagles" in a ceremony at the hospital on June 19.

A native of Johnson City, Tennessee, she graduated from Ohio State University with a BS in Nursing Education. She later attended graduate school at George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

Colonel Brown entered the military service in June of 1943. She has attended a variety of military courses including Management of Mass Casualties, Physiological Basis of Nursing Practice and the Army Installation Management Course.

She has served overseas tours in Korea, Okinawa and Europe. She has been the chief nurse at Silas B. Hays Army Hospital since its opening and had served as chief nurse at the Ft. Ord Hospital since May 1, 1971.

Colonel Brown's awards include the Legion of Merit, the Army Commendation Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, National Defense Service Medal with an Oak Leaf Cluster and the World War II Victory Medal.

Community Center, it is necessary for the Community to contribute $10,000 towards the project, which will cost approximately $368,000. Non-cash contributions will include the land, which is worth $56,000 and a Public Works contribution of $16,000 worth of work to be done on the site. The remainder of the funds needed come from money available through the government.

The Chamber is looking into the possibility of helping to raise the necessary $10,000 from the community.

Remember, the Chamber Board Meetings are open on Thursday morning at 8 a.m. For information, call 394-6501.

Artists Added To Lineup

Alto saxophone jazz great, Paul Desmond, and Brazilian guitarist, Laurindo Almeida, have been signed to perform as guest artists with the Modern Jazz Quartet at the Fifteenth Annual Monterey Jazz Festival set for September 15, 16, 17.

Desmond and Almeida performing with the MJQ will appear during the opening night concert, Friday, September 15, of the five concert series held in the 7000-seat outdoor arena on the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

Also set for that evening's concert is the Stan Kenton Orchestra. This will mark the first appearance of Kenton and his orchestra at the Festival.

The Modern Jazz Quartet, with pianist John Lewis as its musical director, has made frequent appearances at the Festival. In 1963 guitarist Almeida performed at the Festival with the celebrated quartet. The appearance led to a concert series and a fine LP record wherein Almeida performed classical Spanish guitar pieces augmented by the Modern Jazz Quartet.

Desmond has recently appeared in concert with the MJQ on the East Coast.
